The entry test examines how much knowledge you already have about information skills. At the end of the entry test you will receive advice about which modules you should follow.

How good are your information skills?

This is your total result. Make sure you check which parts you have to study intensively.

Passed

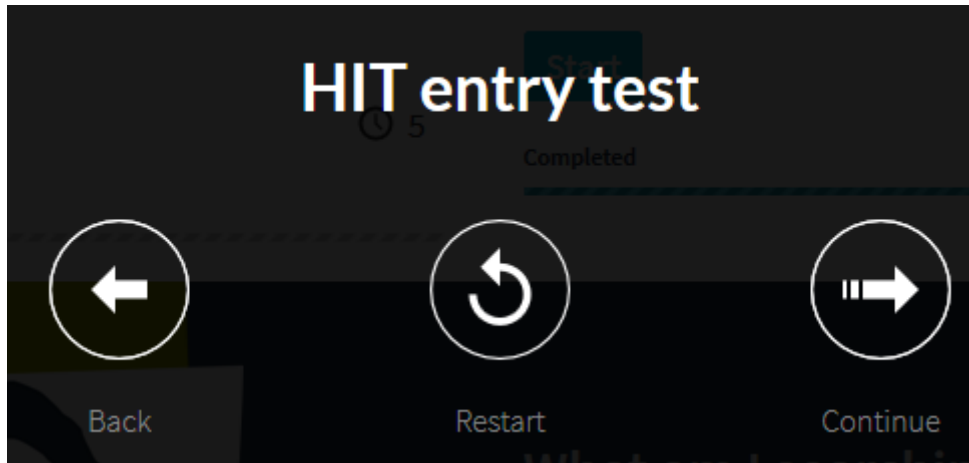

- Questions right: 12
- Total questions asked: 20
- Percentage of total: 60 (60% or more is passed)

You can always return to this advice by reopening this entry test. Just make sure you choose the option 'Continue' (not 'Restart').

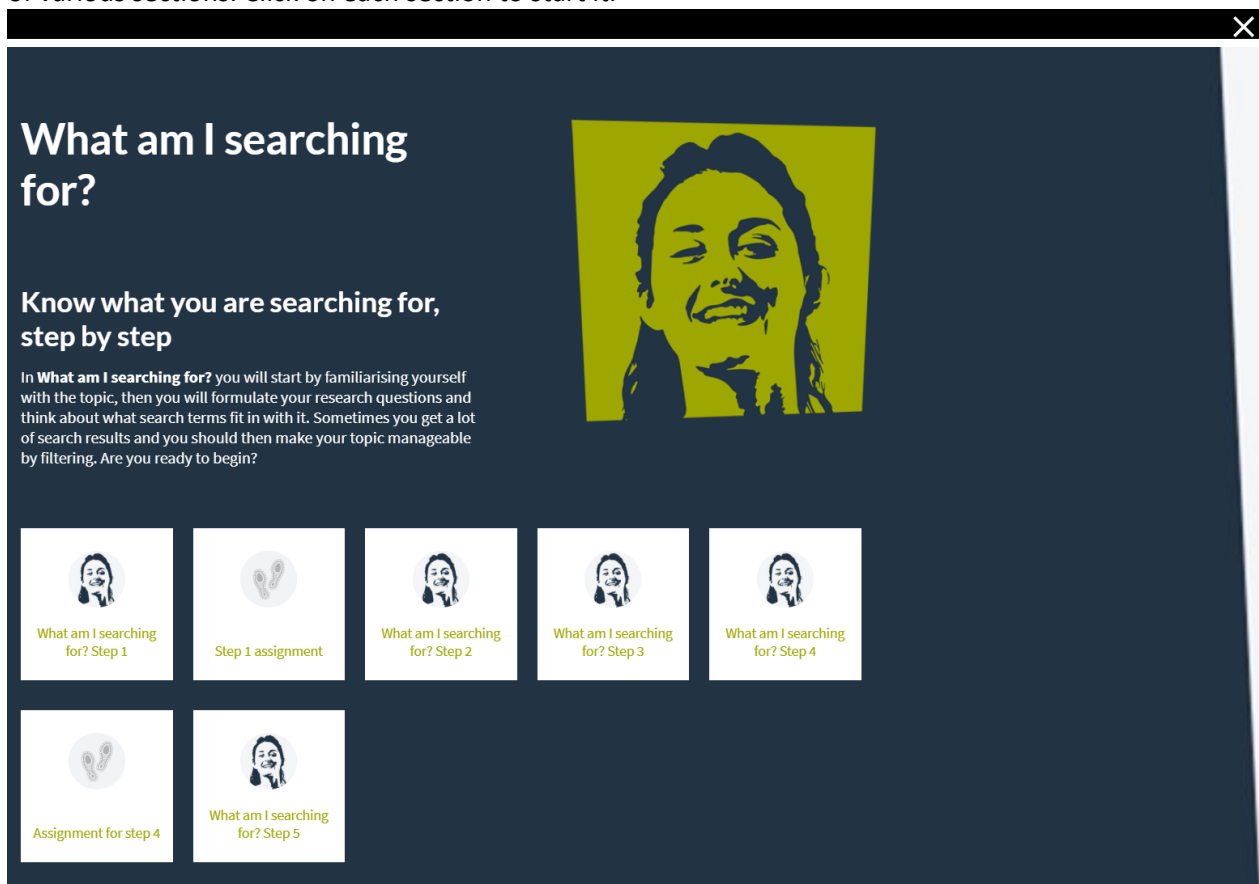

Your result for each part:

	What am I searching for? Not so good You answered 1 from 5 questions right. Advice: study the module 'What am I searching for?' very good.
	Where do I search? Very nice! You answered all 3 questions right. Advice: you already know something about this module but it is worth it to study this module. You will learn a lot!
	How do I search? Good! You answered 4 from 5 questions right. Advice: you already know something about this module but it is worth it to study this module. You will learn a lot!
	What do I have? Not so good You answered 4 from 7 questions right. Advice: study the module 'What do I have?' very good.

Did you forget the advice after closing the entry test? Open the entry test again, click Continue and the advice will reappear.

The parts What am I searching for? Where do I search? How do I search? and What do I have? consist of various sections. Click on each section to start it.

Have you completed all the sections on this page? Click on the cross in the top right-hand corner of this screen to return to the main menu.

The part How will the lecturer assess what I produce? is mandatory, independent on the advice of the entry test.

Click on  to start this part.
