⁴ A bachelor's degree is equivalent to passing the final examination of a degree programme in higher professional education with a study load of 168 credits or a 'kandidaats' examination of a degree programme in research-oriented higher education under the WHW as applicable on 31 August 2002. A bachelor's and master's degree is equivalent to passing the final examination of a degree programme in research-oriented higher education under the WHW as applicable on 31 August 2002, or pursuant to Sections 18.14 and 18.15 of the WHW.

⁵ This group largely corresponds to the group of students holding the nationality of one of the EU or EEA member states, Turkey (subject to certain conditions), or Switzerland, and relatives of EU citizens residing in the Netherlands who are non-EEA nationals, non-Dutch citizens holding specific residence permits or non-Dutch citizens who are waiting on specific residence permits or extension thereof, and those who are already using a student grant or loan, and non-Dutch citizens who previously received a contribution under the Fees and Educational Expenses (Allowances) Act (WTOS).

5.3 Institutional tuition fees

The institutional tuition fee applies to students who do not meet the conditions relating to the statutory tuition fee referred to in article 5.2(1-2), and to students who comply with Article 5.2(3).

5.4 Lowering, exemption from and refund of tuition and examination fees

1. If a student enrolls during the academic year, a portion of the tuition fee will be payable by the student, i.e. one twelfth for every remaining month of the academic year in which the student is enrolled.
2. A student whose enrolment has been terminated in the course of the academic year pursuant to articles 4.2 or 4.3 is entitled to a refund of one twelfth of the tuition fee for every month the academic year continues after termination of the student's enrolment. The student is not entitled to a refund if:
 - a. the enrolment is terminated as of July or August;
 - b. the student is enrolled in one or more other degree programmes at the University, or
 - c. the student was issued a Proof of Payment of Tuition Fee (Bewijs Betaald Collegegeld), and the student has not yet returned the original Proof of Payment of Tuition Fee to the University.
3. If a student dies in the course of the academic year, one twelfth of the tuition fee will be refunded for each consecutive month after the student's decease.
4. If a student is enrolled in a degree programme at The Hague University of Sciences or at another Dutch university of applied sciences or research university, and has paid the statutory tuition fee, and wishes to enrol in another degree programme for which the student meets the criteria for the statutory tuition fee as stated in article 5.2(1-2), the student will not pay tuition fees for the latter degree programme, unless the amount for the latter degree programme exceeds that of the degree programme described first. In that case the difference between the lower and higher amount is payable by the student to the University. If the student passes the final examination of the degree programme that the student first enrolled in, or if the student terminates the enrolment in this degree programme, the student is not entitled to a refund of part of the tuition fee, unless the student also terminates the enrolment in the other degree programme.
5. If a student is enrolled in a degree programme at another Dutch university of applied sciences or research university, and wishes to enrol in a degree programme at the University, and if the institutional tuition fee is payable for one or more of these programmes, no exemptions from tuition fees will be granted for enrolment at the University.
6. A student enrolled in a degree programme at the University who has paid the institutional tuition fee and wishes to enrol in a further degree programme at the University will pay the institutional tuition fee once only.
7. A student pursuing government-funded education other than higher education, for which course fees are payable, who in the same academic year either additionally or instead wishes to enrol in a degree programme at the University and meets the criteria for the statutory tuition fee for that programme, as stated in article 5.2(1-2), will pay tuition fee for the University amounting to the difference between the course fees already paid and the statutory tuition fee.
8. If tuition fees are paid in instalments, as stated in article 5.5(1)(b), refunds will only be made if the eventual amount due is less than the total amount paid. In that case, the difference between the total amount paid and the eventual amount due will be refunded.
9. Those seeking exemption from or lowering of tuition fees are required to submit the required proof of enrolment and tuition fee payment receipts together with their request to the Enrolment Centre.

10. The examination fee cannot be lowered or refunded, nor can external candidates be granted exemption from examination fees.

Article 7.47 WHW

5.5 Payment of tuition and examination fees

1. Students should pay the tuition fee using one of the following payment options:
 - a. payment at once by means of a digital direct debit mandate via Studielink, by submitting a signed payment authorisation form, or in case of an international student who does not yet have a SEPA bank account, payment at once via bank transfer.
 - b. payment in instalments by means of a direct debit mandate via Studielink or by issuing a signed payment authorisation form. If enrolment takes place in the course of the academic year, the instalments will be determined on a pro rata basis. Payment in instalments involves an administrative charge of €24.
2. External candidates can only pay their examination fee at once.
3. The tuition or examination fees must be paid by or on behalf of the student. If payment is made by a third party on the student's behalf, the student who has reached the age of majority must agree to this payment in writing.
4. If it is not possible to pay the tuition fee owed by means of a direct debit mandate (because the account balance is insufficient, for instance), or if the payment is cancelled by counter-entry, and the student has still not paid the amount due within a term determined by the University, the student will lose the right to pay in instalments. The University will establish a term within which the student must pay the tuition fee owed. If the student does not pay the tuition fee in full within the specified term, enrolment may be terminated in accordance with article 4.3(8), collection of the tuition fee that has yet to be paid at that time will be transferred to a debt collection agency, and the amount payable will be increased with the debt collection costs together with statutory interest.
5. If the student has payment arrears, the student may be denied access to the IT facilities.
6. As long as the payable tuition or examination fees remain unpaid, no certificate will be awarded to the student for passing an examination, and no statement of successfully completed tests will be issued. The student may be denied access to education, use of the educational facilities and the buildings.

Article 7.50 WHW

5.6 Other contributions and costs

1. Enrolment is independent of any financial contribution other than the tuition or examination fees.
2. The Education and Examination Regulations relevant to every degree programme shall contain an indication of the costs of study material for students. A student may only be asked to purchase study material if required for the degree programme as set out in the Education and Examination Regulations.
3. The costs arising from the statutory obligations pertaining to the provision of education are not charged to students.
4. No financial fees are charged for providing additional opportunities to take tests outside the academic calendar, as set out in the Education and Examination Regulations.

2. The first page of the learning agreement describes how the student can then register for the minor with The Hague University of Applied Sciences.

Chapter 7. Final provisions

7.1 Legal protection

The individual concerned may file an objection against a decision taken by or on behalf of the Executive Board pursuant to these regulations with the Legal Protection Desk. 7.4 Official title

These regulations may be cited as 'Enrolment and De-registration Regulations Funded Programmes 2025-2026'.

7.5 Evaluation

The Executive Board will ensure that these regulations are evaluated regularly. The evaluation will take place at least once a year.
